It's a huge fight for your freedom, you better have your prayers at hand! Directed by Juan Ramis, the director of the movie "Year One". Storyline Childhood It's a perfect day at the park, maybe more people would come if it was summer. When I play with my sister Mia, She was always playing around, making people laugh or putting handkerchiefs in my face when she was surprised by something. I always thought it was funny so I would do the same thing. We were about seven years old at the time. That day, my parents wanted me to play outside the church while Mia was allowed to play inside, she asked me to play with her, I agreed and left. There was a girl that I found very beautiful, her name was Aria. As I was walking around the church, I saw a candle burning, looking at it I fell into a trance. When I woke up the girl was gone and I started walking around the church. And I seen this priest that remind me a lot of the preacher from her father's church. The way he was chanting and blessing people around him. I wanted to go inside to find out more but I was stopped by Mia, a red devil/possessed girl. She made me do weird things and tried to scare me so I lied and said I saw you and that I was coming to say hi. She screamed when I lied and tried to calm down. The candles around her being lit up by a little girl. "Why are you here? Do you want me to teach you a lesson? I'm sorry, you came to the wrong person." I said all this with a smile on my face. As I did I heard something behind me and saw Aria. She was the girl that I saw before. "I came to say hi. I saw what you were doing." she said. "Are you alright? Are you demon possessed? You're not normal" I said. "I promise I'm not going to hurt you." she said in a very soft voice. "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to scare you. I was only talking." "Don't worry about it, I'm not going to yell at you. You were only doing what I've been doing for the last ten years." "Ten years?!" I said. "Yes, I've
